WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, retired major general, testified today that he consulted former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., about Government bonds before plunging into a wartime $4,000,000 bond deal — and that he once bought aviation stock for his Air Forces superior, Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker.

The witness further told investigating senators that he also consulted Marnier S. Eccles, Federal reserve board chairman, before he and his wife purchased the bonds on speculation. But both Morgenthau and Eccles issued vigorous denials of Meyers' testimony.

Morgenthau told him, Meyers said, that "he didn't see how I could go wrong." The former secretary called Meyers' story "an outright lie."

The balding, fast talking Meyers, a key witness in the tumultuous Senate inquiry into $540,000,000 worth of wartime plane contracts awarded Howard Hughes, related under oath that he had bought the "around $1000" for Eaker, former deputy chief of the Air Force. Meyers formerly was deputy chief of air force procurement.

Hughes, Hollywood film maker and plane designer, has told the Senate war investigating subcommittee that Eaker works for him.

Meyers said he bought 100 shares of Republic Aviation corporation stock. He declared he purchased it in his own name but "I'll be damned if I know" why.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) inquired whether the Air Force had a rule against procurement officers buying stock. Meyers replied he believed there was a rule that "officers could not hold stock with a company for which they were contractual officers."

DeGaulle Urges Alliances For France Against Russia

PARIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle asked France today to establish an airtight system of alliances with the United States, Britain and other western nations against the Soviet Union, which he said was the greatest menace France had ever encountered.

He told a news conference that his country was menaced abroad "by the creation of an enormous power, more formidable for her than any previous European power, more formidable than were the empire of Charles the Fifth (of Austria), the Reich of Kaiser Wilhelm II or the Reich of Hitler."

In Washington, de Gaulle's proposal was received with little apparent enthusiasm. There was no immediate comment in diplomatic quarters.

De Gaulle's status as a private citizen contributed to official unwillingness to comment directly on his proposal.

De Gaulle did not mention Russia directly, but there was no doubt of his meaning as he spoke an answer to a question as to how he envisaged relations with the Soviet Union with which he concluded a 20-year alliance in 1944 when he was provisional president.

Today, he said his country was imperiled, because "independently of her own force, this European power of which I speak has assistance within France."

He said France should immediately conclude arrangements with other powers "who feel themselves menaced" to provide for the common defense and "where each will bring what he can for the common safety."

De Gaulle said France must work "in conjunction" with the United States on a basis of one power with another. The United States could furnish economic aid and France her "geographical position and moral assistance."

SPY CONFESSES NORMANDIE FIRE

German Secret Agent Says He Gave Order for Sabotage of Huger Liner

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—France's language newspaper, said today a German spy was responsible for the blaze aboard the $60,000,000 French liner Normandie which converted the ship into a flame-charred hulk at its pier here Feb. 9, 1942.

The paper said the spy was held in Germany on a murder charge. It quoted him as saying several former members of the German-American Bund were working on the Normandie, which was being converted to a troop transport, shortly after Pearl Harbor, and that these men were among those acting under his orders who set fire to life belts with their solder lamps.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said only: "No comment."

The department of the Army said it had no information on the man reportedly under arrest in Germany, but was calling American authorities there for details.

G. F. Estrangin, the paper's news editor, who wrote the story, said it was based on material obtained in New York and Europe.

Turkey Supply Good, But Prices Steeper

That succulent drumstick will cost 4 cents a pound more this year, but supplies of turkeys will be more than adequate for the Thanksgiving demand, it was reported yesterday.

Miller Long manager of the Laurel Locks farm, predicted a good supply for Thanksgiving but said that stocks may run out before Christmas.

"Orders are coming in already," he declared.

Prices this year have risen four cents over last year's 65 cents a pound. Tom turkeys, drawn and dressed, will cost 70 cents, while hen turkeys will be 80 cents per pound. Live turkeys will cost 50 and 60 cents per pound for toms and hens respectively.

Long attributed the price rise to increasing feed and labor costs. "We are paying $106 a ton for grain feed now as against the slightly more than $80 a ton last year," he pointed out.

He explained that labor costs on farms have risen in proportion to the rise in other industries, and have to be figured in the price of farm products.

Although a few turkeys are sold all year round, they still are a seasonal crop and were not affected by poultryless Thursdays. Long attributed the good supply of birds to fewer losses through disease rather than the food conservation program.

"It was not in effect long enough to affect the supply," he pointed out. "If people didn't buy birds on Friday, they bought them on Friday. It made very little difference."

Schuylkill Churns From Heavy Rains

Ol' Man River, Father Schuylkill with the dirty underdrawers, rose yeastily like a new glass of beer yesterday under the stimulus of 1.13 inches of rain which poured the day and night before.

The sludge-sifted monster was nowhere near flood level, though, rising only from 5.89 feet at 8 a. m. to 6.8 feet at noon, only half way to the danger point. The Tuesday rain total was not quite half the average November fall of 2.7 inches.

Nevertheless, the month—not yet half over—may see work begin on an ark. So far 5.34 inches, or just half under the month's average, has slopped out of skies.

The weatherman, wearying of his flooded basement, has called for a change and confidently expects clear and cold today and tomorrow.

Anticipating the change, the mercury lunged almost ten degrees yesterday morning between 5 and 9 o'clock and last night's temperature hovered near the 40-degree mark.

Friendship Train Fund Boosted To $700; Burgess Lauds Effort

"We are very proud of the progress being made," Burgess William A. Griffith, chairman of the Pottstown Friendship Train committee, said last night as the total received for the train reached $700, with a growing but uncounted sum lying in 85 collection boxes in stores throughout the town.

He added that plans should be completed soon for sending borough representatives to Philadelphia to make Pottstown's contribution to the train, which is carrying aid for starving Europe.

The train is due in Philadelphia Nov. 17, and the cars of food stuffs donated by residents of Southeastern Pennsylvania will be attached when it arrives.

Yesterday contributions were made by five borough organizations: George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion, $50; Soroptimist club, $12.57; American Business club, $25; Pottstown Firemen's association, $60.98, and $15 by the Business and Professional Women's club.

Personal contributions of $14.42 swelled the day's total to $215. A first emptying of the 85 coin boxes in the stores today, plus contributions expected from civic groups meeting tonight, should raise to $1000 the total contributed so far by Pottstown, with the deadline not until tomorrow.

The sum of $1000 will buy a 20-pound bag of flour for every citizen in a village of 570 starving Europeans.

British Kill Five Jews In Raid on Underground

JERUSALEM, Nov. 12 (AP)—British troops and police killed five young Jews, three of them girls, in a raid on what officials said was a school operated by the Jewish underground to train teen-agers of both sexes in the use of "a variety of weapons."

The raid, carried out by a force of 1000 to 1500 British troops with armored cars seeking hidden arms in the rich orange grove region of the Palestine coastal plain, occurred at Shunath Maccabi, 10 miles north of Tel Aviv. Two of the dead girls were described as 16 years old. The other was reported to be 13.

Steam Shovel Breaks Water Main in Stowe

A minor break in a water pipe on Glasgow street, Stowe, was caused yesterday by a steam shovel used in work on laying sewers along the street.

The break was reported at 8 p. m. to borough hall, and Burgess William A. Griffith rode over for a look. He reported it as not serious enough for emergency action. Today workmen will tear up the torn pipe and solder on a length of new pipe. Late last night the leak was a mere trickle.

Efficient Garbage Service Pledged Under New Plan

Efficient, regular garbage collections will be guaranteed under the specifications of the contract upon which bids have been received, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears assured the members of the Minute Men of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Speaking at a meeting of the group in the Howard Johnson restaurant at noon, Sears pointed out how the customer and the borough are protected under the terms of the contract.

Six different categories were set up for the bidding, he said. Under three of them, the borough collects payment from the customers, while the contractor collects payment under the others.

They were: To collect all garbage, ashes, refuse and other matter with either the borough or the contractor to collect payments; to collect all garbage only with either the borough or the contractor to collect payment; and to collect all ashes, refuse and other matter with either the borough or the contractor to collect all payment.

Under this arrangement, it might be possible for the borough to sign contracts with two firms at a lower rate, Sears explained. He went on to show how a contractor bidding for garbage only might submit a very low bid if he re-sells the garbage as food for hogs.

There were 12 bids received from contractors who agreed to arrange accurate semi-weekly schedules; to provide covered, insured trucks; to provide a $15,000 performance bond to guarantee continuous service, and to report all complaints to the borough authorities, he reported.

In addition, he continued, a series of fines has been set up whereby the contractor is fined for failure to clean up spilled garbage, for overloading trucks causing refuse to drop off along the roads, for failure to answer complaints, for failing to keep trucks covered, for parking loaded trucks overnight, and failure to dump garbage as directed at the borough dump.

It also is agreed that the contractor will pick up all waste with the exception of stones bricks and building materials and will provide courteous and business-like collections.

Sears told the Minute Men that the borough and State sanitary codes will be observed and emphasized that the borough is protected legally under the contract.

The next step in the borough's progress toward a new garbage collection system will be a special meeting of the sanitary committee, under the chairmanship of J. Max Crosswell, at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday night in borough hall.

At this time the bids will be studied and the figures compared with those received from other boroughs where the other type of collection is in effect—garbage collection in municipally-owned trucks, by municipal employees.

Recommendations will be made for presentation to the borough council at its special meeting, Nov. 25. The recommendations of the sanitary committee, however, will not be revocable until council meets.

Since the bids were first opened the past Friday night, technicalities have been ironed out by Solicitor C. Edmund Wells and some of the bidders, and the bids now are in the form in which they will be presented to the sanitary committee Tuesday evening.

Complete bids follow:

Huge Crowd Jams Hall For Industries Exhibit

NORRISTOWN, Nov. 12—A crowd of more than 25,000, bettering the most hopeful estimates and so thick at times that Norristown city hall's doors had to be shut on it, swarmed among the 52 exhibits at Montgomery County's Industry on Parade today.

Wilmer Cressman, publicity chairman of the exhibition, tonight guessed that 40 percent of the day's crowd came from Pottstown and surrounding areas. Today was the first of four-day show, first of its kind ever presented in the East.

Ten industries from Pottstown and vicinity and the vocation class of Pottstown High school have booths showing examples of work, varying from samples of dental silk to hand-made bench lathes.

Highlighting the opening was an address by State Secretary of Commerce Orus J. Matthews, who stressed the importance of the exposition, saying it brought more thorough understanding of industry to the public.

Matthews added that the exhibit

Cash Pilfered From Pockets Of Grid Players

After winning a hard-fought game against Pottstown here yesterday, members of Coatesville High School's Junior Varsity football team met with an unexpected defeat in the locker room: about $5 had been lifted from their pockets during the game.

Coatesville Coach Lee Atkinson said all of the stolen cash was in small change, since the players turned over their wallets and other valuables to the manager before the game.

Ed Good, Pottstown athletic director, last night asserted that the locker room had been left open during the game and that all valuables, including change, should have been turned over to a responsible person.

Police were not informed of the thefts.

Christmas Clubs at 2 Banks To Pay Members $280,697

Pottstown Christmas club members can expect an even merrier Christmas than usual this year. Yesterday two Pottstown banks, the National Bank of Pottstown and the Citizen's National Bank, reported they expect to pay their club members an estimated $280,697 starting Dec. 1.

C. Fred Herbsleb, of the National Bank, said distribution to club members this year will be approximately 20 percent greater than last year, with an estimated $175,000 being distributed.

The figure is closely in line with the national average of 17.6 percent and represents an all time high in the 37 years the club has been in operation.

Much of the money distributed is expected to go into permanent savings and the payment of year-end bills, but an estimated 38 percent is earmarked for Christmas purchases.

Pennsylvania is second only to New York in the amount of cash to be distributed to Christmas club members. Its banks will distribute $91,700,000 in time for the holiday season.

A week and a half still remain for club members to finish their savings and local banks expect a last minute rush of deposits.

The club funds will be distributed during National Prosperity Week which begins on Dec. 1 this year.

Lauding the county, he said: "In both World War I and World War II, Montgomery county industry and labor made an outstanding record."

The secretary's speech came early in the afternoon before arrival of the heaviest numbers, including several busloads of school children.

Among standouts of Pottstown's eight exhibitors were: More than 200 items, including toy autos, camera cases and cigar lighter cases, shown by Doehler-Jarvis Corporation; a new plastic cloth, "Yelon," in the Firestone Tire and Rubber company's exhibit; and the numerous auto accessories played by the Pottstown Plating works.

A drawing card to spectators was the Pottstown High school vocational class display of woodwork, printing, electric stoves and tools, all made by the 250 members of the class.

Tomorrow, "Homemaker's Day," is expected to draw another huge crowd, mostly women. Mrs. Francis Ferris, of Ambler, president of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's clubs, will be the speaker.

Higher Quality of Poultry Urged on Co-op Members

Howard C. Pierce, National Poultry Research director for the A and P Food Stores, told more than 200 members of the Tri-County Producers Co-operative association last night that they must produce poultry of such quality that it can compete with meat products with the American consumer.

"The consumer wants better poultry and she isn't getting the quality she wants," the speaker declared. As proof, he showed that the per capita consumption of meat increased during the past several years more than the consumption of poultry.

He lauded the recent lifting of the poultry ban on Thursday, and told the Co-op members that they could increase their profits by increasing the efficiency of hen production.

"A high efficiency of production per hen in these days of high prices will determine whether a man operates at a profit or at a loss," Pierce warned.

In the business session at the Eagles' home, four executives were elected to three-year terms. They were Warren Shearer, of Wernersville, George W. Fox, of Leesport, and William Reiff, of Collegeville.

Rantist Convention

Ejects Pastor for Assailing Speaker

AMARILLO, Tex., Nov. 12 (P)—One pastor who wanted to know why another "feels we should be an ally of Russia" was ejected from the Baptist general convention here today.

When Dr. Louis Newton, Ga., president of the Southern Baptist convention, was introduced as speaker, the Rev. William Fraser, a pastor of Dr. Frank Norris's Fundamentalist church at Fort Worth, got to his feet.

"I would like to challenge Dr. Newton and ask him—," Fraser began.

He was stopped by Dr. Wallace Bassett, Dallas, president of the general convention, who waved his gavel at the pastor.

During the time Fraser was trying to get to the floor he shouted several times:

"I want to know why Dr. Newton feels we should be an ally of Russia?"

Bassett still waving his gavel, told Fraser: "You're not going to ask Dr. Newton anything."

"I want to raise a protest high as heaven—," Fraser insisted.

Amid booms and feet-stomping by the others in the audience, several Baptist laymen and pastors closed in on Fraser.

"You going peacefully?" one of them asked.

Fraser continued shouting until he was picked up and carried bodily from the convention hall.

While the flareup was at its height, some in the audience began singing hymns.

Norris, who has just returned from a trip to Europe where he gathered religious and political data, has long been criticizing Newton, regarding what Norris terms Newton's "stand on Russia."

In his speech, which followed the incident, Newton made one mention of Communism.

He implored Baptists to do more personal evangelizing since "Communism is going up and down this world tearing up everything in its way, and make no mistake about it, that exactly is what it intends to do."

Fraser, who returned to the hall five minutes after he had been ejected, left on his own accord after Newton had finished his talk.

Shortly before Newton began his talk Norris came in and sat near reporters in the orchestra pit and told two of them:

"All hell is going to break loose in a few minutes."

He read a newspaper through preliminary speeches, then stood and smiled broadly while the disturbance was on.

Aerial Searchers See Missing Plane; Couple Snowbound

EVANSTON, Wyo., Nov. 12 (P)—Aerial searchers located the downed plane of a missing California couple today 15 miles east of Gilbert peak in the rugged Uintah mountains and Sheriff Frank L. Narramore said a man and woman at the site were definitely the missing pair.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Dykes, of Taft, Calif., disappeared Saturday while en route by private plane from Custer, S. D., to Taft.

Narramore said the downed plane, its registration numbers matching those of the Dykes craft, was sighted about 11 a. m.

From the air, he said, only the plane's landing gear appeared to be damaged. The couple, waving from the plane, appeared unhurt.

Asked if he could explain the apparently safe landing in the very rugged area, the sheriff commented:

"Somebody had his arms around their shoulders."

Narramore said an experienced forest ranger, A. K. Woggeson of Mountain View, would be flown over the area immediately to orient himself, then would lead a ground party, which will head into the region later today.

The sheriff estimated one and a half to two days would be required to reach the couple and return.

Builder Files Suit To Halt European Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (P)—A suit to bar President Truman and Congress from approving further aid to Europe was filed in District court today.

David A. A. Olson, 48, who identified himself as a Kentucky builder and engineer, asked the court for an injunction on the grounds that such action by the chief executive and Congress exceeds authority for use of the taxpayers' money.

Olson who was represented by Attorney Norman S. Bowles Jr., asserted that the constitution allows the President only the power to pass on congressional appropriations, and does not give Congress the power "to loan or give moneys to foreign governments, many of which are now bankrupt."

When Congress passed the Home-stead Act in 1862, the U. S. government owned about half the land in the United States.

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 12 (P)—The first four-engine, jet-propelled bombing plane of the Army Air Force whistled into Wright Field today, averaging 533 miles an hour on a flight from Oklahoma City.

It was the fastest speed yet announced for the long, thin, cigar-shaped craft, one of five jet bombers being produced for the AAF. Its top speed is a military secret.

The medium bomber, completing a 2090-mile trip from Muroc Field, Calif., was brought in for additional flight tests at Wright Field, brain center of the Army's air research program.

Delay in Fall Planting Dims Outlook For Heavy Crop of Winter Wheat in 1948

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (P)—The outlook for next year's winter wheat has been darkened by a serious delay in fall planting, the Agriculture department reported today.

In its next to last crop report of the year, the department also estimated the weather-harried corn crop at 2,447,422,000 bushels, a decline of about one-half of one percent from its estimate of a month ago.

Today's corn figure confirmed previous official statements that the crop is about 17 percent short of requirements for livestock feeding, food uses and export for the current crop year.

It shows the crop to be about 25 percent smaller than the past year's record one.

Dampening official hopes for another bumper wheat crop next year, the department said about 25 percent of the intended winter wheat acreage in the important great plains area had not been seeded by Nov. 1 because of dry weather. Normally the crop is all planted by this date. Winter wheat, which makes up about three-fourths of all wheat produced, is harvested in the following Spring and Summer.

In other areas, particularly in the Pacific Northwest, a larger acreage than this year's was said to be indicated. The department said, however, that the favorable prospect outside the plains does not offset the discouraging situation in the southwest.

A short wheat crop next year would lower this country's ability to supply cereals to Europe, which is expected to continue to require large imports for at least three more years.

Because of this year's short crop of corn and other feed grains, the department made plans meanwhile to ask farmers to plant about 65 percent more land to principal feed grains next year. The corn acreage would be increased about 63 percent.

A near record output of corn and other feed grains will be needed next year if the current downward trend in production of meats and poultry products is to be reversed.

The department said the total volume of crop production this year still is only 1 percent below the average of the past five years—a period of record production. A record wheat crop of 1,406,000,000 bushels of wheat contributed heavily to this year's crop volume.

The slight October decline in the corn estimate might be offset, officials said, by improvement in the quality and feeding value of the crop.

Cooperation Needed' POTTSTOWN borough council has passed a bicycle licensing ordinance, ...

Enforcement of the ordinance should go a long way to reducing some of the hazards set up by unthinking, youthful bicycle riders. But borough authorities will need more help than that given by safety leaders. They'll need 100 percent cooperation from parents.

The bicycle menace cannot be ignored. It involves the lives and safety of many youngsters and all motorists.

The other night we observed a group of cyclists on an unlighted road in the suburbs. The five youngsters were monopolizing the road, and not one had a light on his wheel.

We have noticed youngsters downtown, zig-zagging in and out of pedestrian traffic on the sidewalks. We have noticed many boys and girls fall to observe traffic lights. Others ride briskly along the wrong side of the road.

It is natural that most police officers don't want to be too tough on the youngsters. But if they attempted to put an end to violations of traffic laws by cyclists, they would be doing the boys and girls a real favor.

But the persons we really believe are to blame are the parents. Surely it is a parent's duty to instruct his boy or girl as to the law. Parents should see to it that his boy or girl does not go on the highway without a bell or horn and without proper lights. Youngsters should be instructed carefully in the right and the wrong before being allowed to venture onto the highway with a bike.

Not only are the lives of the youngsters in jeopardy, but the motorists is almost helpless when he overtakes a bike without a light, on the wrong side of the road—especially in the rural areas.

Let's join in putting an end to the bicycle menace.

READERS SAY:

Marshall Plan

Vague, Indefinite

Letters must not be more than 250 words long, of current topics and must not involve personalities. Writers must sign their names and give street address as evidence of good faith but these will be withheld from publication on request. It is a criminal offense to sign another person's name. Poetry, and communications advocating the election of political candidates are not acceptable.

By MERCURY READERS

The Way to Peace

To the Editor: The "Marshall plan," as it is now labeled, is a vague, indefinite design to aid Europe economically, provide a death blow to Communism in Western Europe, and at the same time gain the good will of the world, all in one fell swoop.

This, then, is our favorite point, a poorly disguised version of the old power politics which has failed so miserably in the past. As long as any nation intends to dictate to the world, whether by gifts of food to starving men with strings attached, or by pure unadulterated political domination, there can be no real security for a war-weary world.

The only logical solution is a complete revision of the United Nations, wherein every nation is given an absolute and not illusory voice. The rule of might must be terminated and the rule of reason inaugurated in its stead.

Pottstown W. H. E.

Why the Objection?

To the Editor: Who is Communist? The labor movement has so vigorously opposed the anti-Communist affidavits prescribed by the Taft-Hartley law that ordinary persons like myself cannot help thinking of such opposition as the result of fear that the truth might hurt.

Americans should be proud to state under oath that they are not only free of any allegiance to subversive elements but also that they are actively opposed to any movement which opposes our free democratic system.

I refuse to believe that all or any appreciable portion of the rank and file represented by men who refuse to sign these affidavits are themselves interested in subversive activity. They why don't these leaders relish the opportunity to renounce Communism publicly?

The avowed purpose of the Communists is to achieve world Communism by ruthless destruction of all opposition; this has been reported time and again. In refusing to denounce Communism, these men are implying Communist affiliation. Why?

Boyetown L. C. P.

Hunger At Home

To the Editor: Those people against feeding Europe are people who haven't been able to put a piece of any kind of meat on their tables for months. Why can't people with means to buy what they want weigh these things in a balance?

I am in a position to know how many people are really going hungry right here. Figure it up: a bottle of milk and a dozen eggs, $1.

It seems strange to think of helping people so far away and let our people right under our eyes go hungry. If prices were right here so people could eat once more, I am sure all would be willing to help over there.

Pottstown OPAL

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

ELAINE B., 44, an English woman, is a socialite and almost fanatical in her zeal for civic improvement.

"Dr. Crane, I do not have any sex problem," she began, sarcastically. "I am above that sort of thing! I have only disgust and contempt for sex, which you emphasize so much in this country."

"I consider sensuality the worst evil in this world. Too bad that children cannot be picked from trees!

"The marital relation is an ugly and sordid thing, as repulsive as the process of birth and of elimination. Instead of teaching married people how to enjoy it, I think it would be far better to teach them how to avoid it entirely!

"I notice that men are nearly always the sex worshippers, and this no doubt for their own benefit. A very large number of women can get along very satisfactorily, thank you, without any attentions from men."

"You and some other psychologists keep harping about 'romance,' 'marital happiness' (based on sex) and the like. In short, you actually encourage sensuality."

"You call the ones who do not agree with you either 'medieval' or 'emotionally immature.' Well, I am too polite to tell you what I really think about you."

"I married for financial security. Some women (contrary to your belief) do not give a hoot for men, romance and mushy love making."

"Furthermore, when it comes to your 'cave man' stuff, some women would respond with a knife. Give a little more pride to women."

"I think that the incessant advice given in your column to men and women about 'sex appeal,' 'How to interest men,' 'How to win women,' and the like, is stupid and inhuman."

"Instead, let us cultivate continence. I am filled with a mixture of disgust and pity for males. They are all repugnant."

"I have only one child, the right number in a sad, poor and overworked world. I have no more because there is something so deeply sordid and savage in this world that it is hard to believe in a spiritual power."

"I am very much of an introvert and glad of it. I loathe curiosity, and love privacy. Nor do I have an inferiority complex."

"If you do not like my views discard them. My ideas are probably sound, peculiar, but I come from a long line of highly intelligent people, mostly intellectuals and artists, so possibly I could not feel like the average reader."

This lady has a right to her opinions, of course, but I can assure you readers that she is the type who at the menopause often finds herself mentally disturbed far beyond the average, and may end up in a sanitarium.

And her youngster is going to have his personality scarred by such an abnormal viewpoint from his mother. She apparently has missed my points completely in these case records.

Sex hunger ranks next to racism or socialism in human life. Both must be satisfied for happy marriage. Elaine's husband is a patient of mine. He has been driven to other women by his wife's abnormal views. She has broken up her own home, though she blames everybody else but herself for this tragedy.

WASHINGTON

British Aid Strikes

Sour Congress Note

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—A sour note in all discussions of American aid to Europe has been struck inside and outside Congress with the querulous question of how much assistance the members of the British Commonwealth have given to the mother country. There seems to be a feeling that the burden on the U. S. could be lightened if the dominions exhibited greater generosity.

A corollary suggestion, which bobs up in mail to members of Congress and to the writer, runs to the effect that England has several rich assets which she could but has not tapped. There have been proposals that the royal family sell or pawn the crown jewels, with some folks estimating their value at many billions of dollars.

GOLD: Another scheme frequently advanced on this side of the water is that Britain nationalize the gold mines of South Africa, which number some of the richest producing units in the world, and obtain dollars from the U. S. by depositing this commodity in the world's deepest and wealthiest bank—Fort Knox, Ky.

British representatives here, somewhat disturbed by this fairly widespread criticism, prepared a report on what the dominions have done for the old country, on the saleability of the crown jewels and on the nationalization of South African gold mines.

In addition to the fact that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa suffered serious human and material losses during the war, both before and after this country entered or was dragged into the conflict, it appears that the dominions' contributions have been rather imposing.

REINFORCEMENT: Here is a summary of the specific facts of reinforcement which the principal members of the British Commonwealth have furnished to London:

Canada: Between April and September of 1945, Ottawa gave outright the sum of $870,000,000 in the form of essential commodities. It wrote off $470,000,000, which was the cost of training British aviators who could not win their wings at home because of German bombings in the earlier stages of the war.

It was these men who saved England so the island could become the takeoff for our invasion of Normandy, our aerial destruction of German industry and our final defeat of Hitler.

Canada also loaned England $1,500,000,000 at extremely low interest rates. She also has restricted travel to this country and other places so that dollars may be conserved for the benefit of London.

In view of Canada's resources and her population of approximately 12,000,000 people, as against our 140,000,000, we would have to give England approximately $25,000,000,000 to match our northern neighbor's contribution. It should be noted, incidentally, that, under the Commonwealth setup, Canada was under no obligation to make these sacrifices.

Australia: The "Aussies," whose men rank among the world's finest and most daring do fighters, as American veterans of World War I and II know, were equally generous.

Canberra turned over $80,000,000 as its contribution to Pacific War costs. Australia provided a haven for Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur when he had to flee the Philippines and it was from there that he began the zigzag island hop-skip-and-a-jump warfare that eventually landed him in Tokyo.

Australia sold for a song $5,250,000 worth of gold to England. It also has pledged to sell for approximately $23,000,000, for as long as the dollar crisis lasts.

New Zealand: New Zealanders gave London $40,000,000 in March of 1945 as an outright gift. It has also restricted travel and foreign purchases in accord with Prime Minister Atlee's "austerity" program.

South Africa: The people of this dominion presented London with $8,000,000 without any stipulation for repayment. South Africa recently loaned London $320,000,000 in gold at an interest rate of one-half of one percent. There may be similar transactions in the future.

JEWELS: Possible sale or pawning of the crown jewels seems to strike the fancy of critical Americans, without a thought of the psychological effect which such a deal would have on the British people. It is as if we should be asked to auction off the originals of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, not to mention the Roosevelt-Churchill Atlantic Charter, if any.

Fuel is that the crown jewels do not represent such a fabulous asset. A. C. Mann, the crown jeweler, estimates their value at hundreds of millions, but he apparently was thinking of the sentimental appeal which they would possess for collectors. When they were returned to the Tower of London for a press preview after the recent war, the figure placed upon them was between $40,000,000 and $80,000,000.

It also is pointed out that, if these diamonds, pearls, rubies, emeralds, etc., were dumped on the market in a forced sale, it would knock down the price not only of their Majesties' baubles, but also affect adversely the market value of similar gewgaws.

REACTION: Charles Campbell, first secretary at the British Embassy, best expressed the home-town reaction to this proposal.

"My God," he exclaimed, "it would be just like asking the people of Texas to sell the Alamo!"

ENTERPRISE: The South African gold mines belong to private owners. Moreover, South Africa shows no sign of adopting the nationalization program which London has extended to the Bank of England, the coal mines and the transportation system. As an entirely independent dominion, S. A. strines along with the private enterprise setup, which, with a trace of irony, Secretary Campbell noted, "You Americans value so highly!"

UNSOLVED TRUNK MYSTERY

Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 12—The other night in a swank Hollywood nitery, three gals—Diana Lewis, Jane Withers and an unidentified beauty escorted by Johnny Meyers—made the horrifying discovery that they were wearing identical gowns, and, according to all reports, immediately plotted mayhem against the dressmaker responsible for their embarrassment.

I wonder if the ladies will pardon a mere man for indulging himself in a chuckle. It seems strange that the members of the speaker sex always go into a tizzy on discovering that their gowns are not "exclusive." It seems strange when one considers the slavishness with which they copy one another's slang, mannerisms, coiffures and make-up. It seems even stranger when you see them, one after another, trading the comfortable styles they have worn for years for uncomfortable, padded dresses decreed by a Parisian modiste.

After seeing the consummate ease with which studios wreck the careers of promising young players, I should be more cautious, but, nevertheless, I'm going to climb far out on a limb and predict that Gloria Grahame, the gal who plays the little toughie in "Crossfire," is going to be a topflight star.

There are plenty of girls as beautiful as she, and there are a handful of youngsters, discovered each year, who can also act. But you can count on the fingers of one hand the newcomers, in any one year, who combine outstanding beauty with outstanding acting ability. The combination should be irresistible.

I can understand irritation that prompted Howard Hughes to say that he's "plumb disgusted" with pictures, since he had just found it necessary to throw an extra half-million into his current production, "Vendetta" (maybe current isn't the right word, in view of the fact that the picture has now been before the cameras about two years), but I'm darned if I can sympathize with his plight. It's been obvious, almost from the start, that the real trouble with "Vendetta" lies in the fact that it's producer knew too little about picture-making to decide exactly what he wanted to achieve, and lacked the time to give it any appreciable amount of personal attention. It seems to me that Hughes is blaming the picture business unfairly. He'd be wiser to blame a guy named Howard Hughes.

As you've probably heard, 20th Century-Fox is now filming, near Kanab, Utah, western epic titled "The Ballad of Burnside Creek." One of the principal sequences in the picture deals with the westward trek of an emigrant party, traveling in 50 covered wagons. And how I'd enjoy watching the expression on the face of a resurrected '49er, if he could see what a modern movie studio needs to move those 50 wagons a distance of four miles.

On the location are: 60 studio cars and trucks, three water wagons (to supply drinking water and lay the dust), two chuck wagons, a commissary tent, 20 portable dressing rooms, a portable schoolhouse, a "make-up" trailer, a blacksmith shop and a pre-fabricated garage. Besides the cast and the production crew of more than 100 workers there are two nurses, 50 horse wranglers, two humane society representatives, an Indian agent to protect the Redskins, extras, and a school teacher.

Travel seems to have grown more complicated than it was in the days of the sturdy pioneers.

Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Who Is Deschappelles?

ALL well-rounded bridge players use the Deschappelles Coup upon occasion, but don't know why the play bears that name. Monsieur Deschappelles was a great Whist player in France approximately a century ago. He made no claim to being the first ever to use the play named for him, but was acknowledged the original cardsman that pointed out the distinguishing features of it to others with the advice that they employ it. Basically it is very simple—merely leading an honor, on which otherwise would be a sure winner—in the early play to knock out an opponent's entry which would be important at a later stage.

In Retrospect

50 Years Ago

November 13, 1897

GOOD HUNTER—Theodore F. Miller has made the following record as a hunter this season: 50 rabbits, 15 partridges, six woodchucks, and three pheasants. Miller said he thinks he can reach the 100 mark on rabbits before the season closes.

PRIZE RADISH—Of all the large radishes which have been grown this year none comes up in size to the one shown by Mrs. John Hartranft. Her garden product tips the scales at 5 1/2 pounds, is 16 inches in length and 14 1/2 inches in circumference.

BOWS TO THE BREEZE—A large weeping willow tree, which has stood the storms of probably a hundred years or more in front of the Quinter home on Washington street, near Water, was blown down yesterday afternoon. The old tree was a land mark in the section of town.

VETERAN DIES—Elmer R. Graham, 53, veteran drug store clerk, fell dead last night at 9 o'clock in his home, 447 High street. Mr. Graham was preparing to retire for the night when stricken with a heart attack.

BLOOD PRESSURE DEVICE—Purchase, with funds which remained from the 1936 charity ball, and installation of two blood pressure apparatus in Pottstown hospital was reported last night at the monthly meeting of the trustees in the North Charlotte street institution.

FUMBLE RECOVERED—Wrapping his fingers around a fumbled ball and racing eight yards to score, Bob Filman provided the points that enabled Pottstown Junior High to ring down the curtain on its grid season with a 6-0 triumph over Downingtown Junior High.

Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

You Meet Such Interesting People

SOME GIRLS collect curios, others collect emeralds and almost all would adore to collect furs—but Nancy Donovan, the pretty singer at the Roxy, collects irons, the kind you press with. She has the old-fashioned type you heat over the fire, the steam variety, the electric kind, midget and mammoth ones, and the portable variety. What's more, she always presses her own clothes, sometimes when they don't even need to be gone over; she claims she can't vocalize best, concentrate on problems that need thrashing out or even manage to forget problems completely while wielding a trusty wrinkle wrecker. (You hoo, Nancy, wotcha came over to My house?)

Obituaries

ROBERT LEROY "BILL" SCHATZ, 15, of 619 CHESTNUT STREET, died yesterday morning at 4:15 o'clock at his home. He had been suffering from a heart ailment.

The past Sept. 22 he was on his way to Pottstown Senior High school, where he was in the second year, when he was afflicted with a heart attack.

Carried home by his friends, he rested in bed for about a week, then returned to school. A few days later he was stricken a second time at his home and was bedfast since.

Robert was given the nickname "Bill" years ago by one of his friends who confused Bob with Bill, and the nickname stuck.

He was the son of Vincent (Sheeder) Schatz, widow of George Schatz, a veteran of world war I who died in 1940.

A member of the Sunday school of the First Methodist church he was baptized the day before his death by his pastor, the Rev. Horace N. Olevier.

In addition to his mother, Robert is survived by a step sister, Mrs. Bernetta Nelman, 378 North Franklin street.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street. Bearers will be high school friends The Rev. James D. Matchette, pastor of Seales Memorial Methodist church, will officiate.

Interment will be made in Highland Memorial park.

Funeral services for LYMAN MALSBERGER, of MARGATE CITY, N. J., former resident of Pottstown and honorary member of the Good Will Fire company, were held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street.

Officiating was the Rev. H. K. Hoelmer, pastor of First Schenkenfelder church, Philadelphia. Interment was made in Pottstown West End cemetery.

Bearers were Arthur Fryer, Paul Fryer, Max Brown, Jerry Shandel, Edwin Schoch and Thomas Jones.

Masonic rites were conducted at the graveside by Stichter Lodge 254, F & AM. George S. Haas was worshipful master; George K. Canell, senior warden; Wayne J. Lester, junior warden, and Alfred H. Haas, chaplain.

Funeral services for BESSIE A. (MURRAY) KNERR, wife of Maurice Knerr, of 839 SOUTH STREET, were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from a funeral home at 404 High street.

The Rev. George L. Harung, pastor of St. Matthew's Reformed church, Chester Springs, officiated. Interment was made in St. Matthew's cemetery.

Bearers were Samuel Warner, Jesse Houck, Howard Murray, George Greiner, Lewis Leopold and Ralph W. Ralston.

Funeral services for MICHAEL J. GREY, 234 SOUTH STREET, will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 a. m. from a funeral home at 258 Beech street. Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at 10 a. m. in St. Aloysius Catholic church. Burial will be in St. Aloysius New cemetery.

Reading Pastor Victim Of Heart Condition

READING, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Rev. Mark J. Steierwald, an elder in the East Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church and executive secretary of Evangelism in the same conference, died suddenly today of a heart condition in his parsonage, next door to the Park Evangelical U. B. church, which he served. He observed his 38th birthday anniversary on November 3.

Mrs. Steierwald said her husband has been suffering with a heart condition since a disastrous fire did extensive damage to the church soon after he became pastor in 1942. He became ill early today after his return last night from Manheim where he addressed a Sunday School class and had gone downstairs when he collapsed.

AUTHORESS DIES

LONDON, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Baroness Orczy, playwright and author of the noted "Scarlet Pimpernel" stories, died today after a brief illness. She was 80.

Funeral services for BESSIE A. (MURRAY) KNERR, wife of Maurice Knerr, of 839 SOUTH STREET, were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from a funeral home at 404 High street.

Political Violence

Takes Lives of Four In Italy Outbreaks

ROME, Nov. 12 (P)—The newspapers of Italy thundered angry denunciations against the Right and the Left tonight as widespread violence and terror, particularly in the industrial north, took a casualty toll of four dead and seven wounded in 24 hours.

All the deaths occurred Tuesday night when, in the village of Medaglia near Milan, a man identified as a member of the Rightist Uomo Qualunque (Common Man) movement stationed himself in a hayloft and shot one Leftist demonstrator to death and wounded two others shortly afterwards he was lynched.

Union leader Vito Pipitone was killed in Sicily while returning from a farmers' meeting near Palermo and a former partisan was beaten to death near Bologna.

The wave of terror, conceded by observers to be of political origin, was accompanied today by new expressions of popular anger at a zoom upward in prices, after recent declines, and a nation-wide strike of gas works employees that deprived Rome, the first city affected, of illuminating gas.

Leftists stormed through central Milan today, destroyed the headquarters of the Common Man party, wrecked offices in which the Rightist newspaper l'Immatino D'Italia is published and sacked the headquarters of the Rightist Socialist movement.

The crowd had assembled in the central square of Milan to protest yesterday's disorders in Medaglia and a 10-minute protest strike was observed. Authorities said about 2000 persons participated in the Milan disorders.

The crowd also protested Pipitone's death in Sicily. Five persons were injured before order was restored.

The Socialist party's newspaper Avanti charged the government with responsibility for the disorders and said 18 union organizers had been slain in Sicily by the underground Mafia.

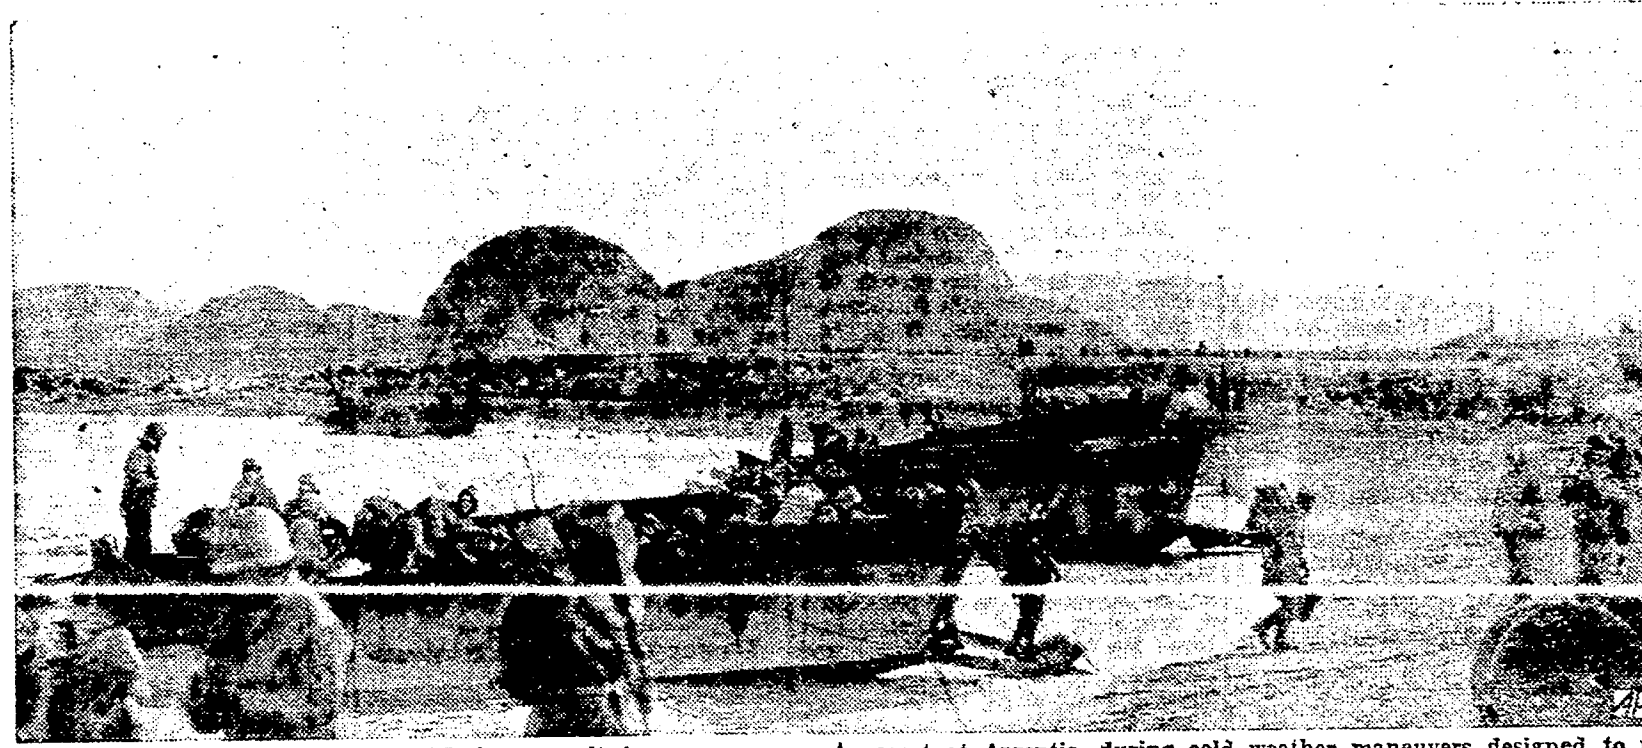

The newspaper Espresso published an interview with an unidentified member of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democratic party who said northern Italy's reign of violence "must be linked with the desires of the Leftist parties to overthrow the government before Dec. 31 when the mandate to the constituent assembly ends."

Most papers had varying versions of the origin of the disorders, but were unanimous in reporting that the council of ministers tomorrow will consider raising the price of bread from 65 to 90 lire (16½ to 25½ cents) per kilo (2.2 pounds).

Norco Grange Schedules Nominations, Election

U. S. Leathernecks 'Invade' Newfoundland

U. S. Looks to Extensive Radar System For Warning Against Enemy Air Attacks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (P)—An agency of the national defense establishment is looking for means of mending a critical gap in the nation's defenses—lack of any adequate system to warn of a sudden air or guided missile attack.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman of the research and development board and the man who headed the wartime Office of Scientific Research and Development, said today that two committees of his board are seeking ways of integrating the radar warning network with the normal navigational aids used for peacetime civilian air operation.

Bush said, in reply to news conference questions, that there is no existing nation-wide "early warning network" (a tied-in system of radar stations on shore, in the air and at sea by which fighter aircraft forces of the country could be warned if enemy air craft started winging in on the United States).

It also was disclosed that a similar gap in the warning system exists in the vitally important polar outpost of Alaska. A recent statement by the United States Air Force said that plans are under way for the location of strategic defense elements in Alaska, including an "interdependent system of early warning sites."

Air Force officials said, in answer to questions after the Bush comment, that this system is still in the planning stage. There is very little radar warning equipment in Alaska, they reported, and it is mostly material left over from the war.

Bush had said that while there is no integrated, co-ordinated warning network, each of the armed forces does have some equipment. As explained by Bush and Secretary of Defense Forrestal, two committees of the research board have begun consideration of the associated problems of air navigation and communication and that of a "potential air warning network for use in an emergency."

NEW BERLINVILLE

Bleachers Erected

At West Pottsgrove

Five collapsible bleacher stands, solicited by the West Pottsgrove Civic association and paid for by community interests, have been erected at the West Pottsgrove High school football field, it was announced last night at an association meeting.

The stands, a long-standing project of the association, may be dismantled and put up in the basketball court in the winter, Charles Flickinger Sr., treasurer, said.

A committee of five was named last night to pick nominees who will be elected at the January meeting. On the committee are Herbert Stauffer, Peter Dori, Mrs. Walter Reed, Henry Kulp and Edward Levensgood. They will present their choice at the December meeting.

Flickinger was in charge of the meeting last night attended by 16. The organization meets the second Wednesday of every month.

all re-elected, and George M. Anthony of Berks county.

M. M. West, of Lansdale, was offered a nomination for re-election, but declined to run.

M. W. Bennett, of Royersford, president of the group, spoke in detail of the Co-op affairs, describing the sale of 112,299 cases of eggs by the association in 1946-47 as the largest in their 16-year history.

John Gauss, of the agricultural economics extension division, Pennsylvania State college, elaborated on the annual financial report for the members.

He described the Co-op as in "excellent financial condition," and told the members that they are doing their part in the Eastern Federation of Co-operatives, of which they are a member branch.

After the scheduled meeting, members of the audience rose to speak informally of problems in the egg and poultry business.

The word "commode" originally meant a tall headrest which had a fan-shaped frame covered by silk or lace.

SPY CONFESSES —

said "there is no evidence of sabotage."

The 83,493-ton liner never saw war service. After enormous effort, she was refloated in August, 1944, but the Navy decided it would be too costly to refit her as a troop transport.

The past year the pre-war queen of the French merchant marine was sold for scrap.

France Amerique said the spy told the following story "in effect" to an Allied information officer in Germany:

"Yes, it was I who gave the order to set fire to the Normandie. It was I who showed the place where one would apply the soldering lamps to start the fire.

"But I was not the big shot of the sabotage job. He was a special representative of Admiral Canaris (Admiral Walter Wilhelm Canaris, German intelligence chief) and I knew him only under the name of Number 437 in the course of our meetings in a Harlem cafe which was a spy meeting place.

"I engaged a stevedore who was one of the members of my network. At the syndicate rates, it didn't cost me more than $50.

"Truly we didn't risk much. The ship was guarded neither by the Army nor the Navy nor the Coast Guard. You understand that the means of transforming the Normandie into a troop transport was left to a private company which had bid the least.

"My agents placed the life belts at strategic points after making the spark-like matchboxes. When I gave the signal on the tenth of February, 1942 (the fire actually occurred on Feb. 9), ten men set fire at the same time to the accumulation of life belts with their soldering lamps.

6-Year-Old Boy Finds

Wallet Lost Four Days

Perhaps because he's closer to the ground, six-year-old Arthur Ray Shaffer Jr., of 58 South Adams street, yesterday found a wallet lying in a Queen street gutter near Adams street that had been ignored by adults since Saturday.

Edward D. Chayson, 1436 Cherry street, lost it sometime Saturday. He hurried over to the Shaffer home for it last night when informed they had found it. Chayson had no money in the wallet, but it contained all of his papers and licenses.

denial concerning testimony of alleged dealings with Hughes. He has been accused of seeking a loan and a job at a time when he was negotiating a government contract with Hughes.

"I never received one cent or a job or anything else," the witness asserted. He declared he had been "crucified in the press of this country." Never in 28 years of Army service had his character ever been questioned, he declared.

At first today the retired general insisted he had talked with Secretary Morgenthau only about "solidity" of certain short-term Government bonds that mature in 1952-54.

Then Chairman Ferguson read the general's testimony of last July:

"Morgenthau said he wouldn't tell me to do it, but he said he didn't see how I could go wrong."

The July testimony also quoted Meyers as saying reserve chairman Eccles had told him "the same thing."

tial step can be taken next year.

"It is important that careful plans for tax revision be made in the Congress as soon as possible," the report said. "The American economy needs a tax reduction in the near future."

The present system "discourages new and independent business and arrests the growth of established business"; therefore, said the committee, it is "a threat to a free economy and a free society."

The 70-page statement was issued by CED Chairman Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker corporation. It was adopted unanimously by CED's 21-member research and policy committee, which includes Beardsley Ruml, chairman, R. H. Macy & company, and author of the pay-as-you-go tax plan; Eric A. Johnston, president, Motion Picture Producers association, and Chester C. Davis, president, Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

For the 1950s a thorough "tax reform" is needed, the report said. It charts a drop in the individual income tax to a starting rate of 11.5 percent, instead of 19 percent; a influence in Europe," he explained.

Treaties with the United States and Britain must be concluded immediately, he said, but should be arrived at "as equals. We must not appear to be beggars."

He said a system of alliances was one of the aims of his anti-Communist Rally of the French People (RPF) party, which he described as "an element of force which echoes the instincts of the French people, who feel themselves menaced at home and abroad."

Addressing the news conference attended by nearly 300 newspapermen and party supporters, de Gaulle predicted the RPF would continue to "grow like a tidal wave." He dismissed critics and opponents of the RPF as "no more important than spit in the ocean."

Engine company was called at 12:55 p. m. to extinguish the blaze threatening the homes of Elmer Essicks and A. Beormant.

Working with 100 feet of booster stream hose and two carbon tetrachloride bombs, the Phillies put out the fire within half an hour.

They said that Essicks had started a hard coal fire at the same time that Beormant started a gas fire.

Apparently, the blaze started on Beormant's side of the property.

CE Branch Warned Against Communism In Youth Groups

Seventy-five members of North Branch Christian Endeavor, meeting Tuesday night in Parkerford Brethren church, heard a warning against Communism, gambling and Sabbath violations made by the Rev. C. E. Thompson, Chester county pastor-counselor.

The Rev. Thompson, who also is pastor of New London Presbyterian church, cited instances of "Communism eating its way into youth groups" and warned CE members to guard against such infiltration.

He declared that gambling in Chester county, started by many worthwhile civic groups for "so-called good purposes," should be opposed, saying that the evil of gambling contaminated the "good" cause.

The speaker concluded by attacking the "misuse of the Lord's Day" and urging the membership to fight the "growing tendency."

On the musical service, the Rev. Robert W. Neilson, pastor of Nantmeal Methodist church, led the song service; a trio was sung by Ruth and Mary Jane Strohm and Alice Kugler, and Miss Kugler played several pipe organ selections.

Brief reports were heard from Jane Hicks, Brower Ellis and Ernest Walker, who were North Branch delegates to the Middle Atlantic States CE conference held two weeks ago in Baltimore.

Devotions were in charge of the Rev. Clayton J. Bates, pastor of East Nantmeal Baptist church.

Pennsylvania University Enriched by $920,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania today announced receipt of nearly $920,000 from three recent bequests.

The late J. Allan Donaldson, owner of the Donaldson Paper company, Harrisburg, left $450,000 for "such capital improvements or endowment purposes as may be determined by the governing boards of the university."

The late James L. Wood bequeathed $370,500 as a memorial to his mother, Mary Amanda Wood. University trustees have authorized the income of this fund to be used for establishment of a professorship in physics. Wood was a Philadelphia landscape artist.

A bequest of $98,813 was left by Ellis D. Williams, Philadelphia attorney, "to be held as an endowment fund."

Miles of track operated by U. S. railroads reached a peak of 429,823 in 1931, declining to about 390,000 in 1945.

YMCA Drama Club Preparing for Play; Eagle Crafters Meet

Two casts of the Drama club, a group sponsored by the YMCA extension division, are preparing "Three Wishes" for presentation. It was announced yesterday by William S. Carden, extension division leader.

The Drama club meets at 568 Walnut street, Carden's home, at 7:30 o'clock every Tuesday, and seven members have joined this new organization.

They include: Millicent Cornum, Edna Hale, Thelma White, Dorothy Gibson, Mary Reid, Louis Rogers and William S. Carden Jr.

Last night the Eagle Crafters met at Bethany center at 6:30 o'clock. This group of Junior High school boys meets every Tuesday and Wednesday evening for sessions of airplane, boat and automobile modeling, under the leadership of Ferrol Walker.

The Eagle Crafters, Carden said, are planning to hike to Ringing Rocks park at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with the girls of the scrap book club, who meet at Bethany at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Girls in this organization include Nancy and Shirley Jackson, Marlene Oliver, Thelma White, Dorothy Gillis, Iola Owens and Janette Hurt.

In addition to their scrap book work, the group reads and discusses Bible selections, and is planning to make plaster molds for Christmas.

Fifteen boys and girls, aged 6 to 9, met with Miss Vivian Mobley at the coloring club session, held at Bethany yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The first meeting of the new Adult Bible class was held at Bethany at 8 o'clock Monday evening, but future meetings will be held at Carden's home.

Bibles will be available to all future club members, Carden promised.

Aside from the regularly scheduled club activities, Carden is planning to lead a group of boys and girls, nine years or older, to see "Industry on Parade" in Norris-town Saturday.

Those interested in joining the group should contact him by tomorrow afternoon, he said.

American Ship Reaches Burning Dutch Vessel

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12 (AP)—The American steamer Boonesborough has reached the burning Dutch ship Alpherat in the South China sea and is standing by to take off passengers if necessary. Globe wireless was advised by its Manila office today.

This was the first indication that the burning ship had passengers aboard. Their number was not given.

The message said the Boonesborough was prepared to take off the Alpherat's passengers at daybreak Thursday if the captain of the stricken vessel so requested.

The American ship also will convey the Alpherat.

The Alpherat sent an SOS from a position 150 miles south of Hong Kong, the ship's destination.

Heavy Winds, Rains Lash New England

BOSTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—A howling storm that brought rain, snow, and winds that in some places reached hurricane proportions in gusts, lashed New England throughout the day, inundating entire communities, disrupting public utilities and causing heavy coastline property damage.

One death was attributed to the storm, that of a six year old boy struck by an automobile while crossing the street during blinding rain.

The weather bureau measured the peak of the storm at 78 miles an hour—three miles above the minimum hurricane velocity—in northern New England.

Senator Charges Politics Injected In Rent Curb Issue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) declared today that the Truman Administration is making "an inexcusable attempt to play politics" with rent control because of the coming election.

"It's next to criminal, it's just inexcusable," McCarthy told a news conference.

He declared that acting housing expediter Tighe Wood has taken it upon himself to substitute his judgment for that of local rent boards in determining whether rent increases are necessary.

The first term senator said Congress will face a dilemma in deciding whether to extend Federal rent controls beyond next Feb. 29, when the present law expires.

"It will be a great mistake to recontrol rents on the national level," McCarthy said, "and it will be a great mistake to continue on as the present expediter apparently proposes to do."

McCarthy said that a house-senate committee in writing the final version of the rent control law called in former expediter Frank R. Creedon and obtained his "unqualified promise" that (1) he would stay on the job until next Feb. 29 and (2) he would administer the law as Congress intended.

Creedon resigned several weeks ago, and was succeeded by Wood, his former assistant.

"If Creedon had stayed on as expediter and if he had administered the law as Congress intended it to be administered," McCarthy said, "then I frankly think rent controls should have and would have been continued."

He said he had "no doubt" that Wood received orders from higher up in the administration, either from President Truman or from his advisor, Clark Clifford—"Which ever one decides their policies."

Wood recently rejected a recommendation by the Chicago local advisory board for an across-the-board boost in rent ceilings there.

McCarthy, back from a nationwide trip to study housing, said he believes that general rent decontrol would add to inflationary pressure, since in his opinion there are many areas in which no rent increases are necessary.

Fritz Mandl's Wife Asks for Separation

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 12 (AP)—Fritz Mandl's wife testified secretly before a committing magistrate today in support of her charge that the former Austrian munitions magistrate beat and injured her in their fashionable apartment.

The complainant is Mrs. Herta Schneider-Mandl, mother of two Mandl children, aged seven and three. Her petition for judicial separation and division of joint property was transferred during the day by Judge Roberto Palmieri to Judge Juan Baragallo.

Mandl, former husband of Hedy Lamarr, is at the seaside resort, Mar Del Plata. The police said no order had been issued for his arrest.

Mandl fled to Argentina when Hitler seized Austria. He became an Argentine citizen and started a factory here to make metal and plastic articles. The government later took over the factory. Mandl was on the U. S. black list during the war and was denied a visa to enter the United States alone the past year.

Truman's Plane Among DC6s Grounded: Officials Investigate New Mexico Fire

GALLUP, N. M., Nov. 12 (AP)—Representatives of Douglas Aircraft corporation undertook key roles today in probing for the origin of a fire which disabled one of the firm's DC6 transports yesterday and led directly to the grounding of others.

The White House announced President Truman's personal plane, the "Independence," was one of those ordered out of the air. Others were being used by half a dozen airlines, some for long overseas flights.

An investigation was launched after yesterday's close brush with tragedy for an American Airlines DC6, San Francisco to New York bound, which was abandoned.

It dived hastily into the Gallup airport with flames leaping from the underside, and aviation experts were quick to link the incident to the Oct. 24 crash of a United Airlines DC6 which killed 52 persons in Utah.

Robert W. Knight, New York, director of American's operations analysis division, said he was confident flames in both ships were "on speaking terms."

He also ventured an opinion "the ship would have burned and it undoubtedly would have been killed" but for recent precautionary action affecting DC6s.

This was a Civil Aeronautics board order voiding a requirement for commercial planes to carry magnesium flares, a step taken after the Utah disaster.

An American Airlines engineer, Samuel O. Davis, said the ignited flares burn with such intensity that a three-inch piece of armor plate would be penetrated in less than three minutes. The ship forced down here landed five minutes after discovery of the fire.

Plane and passengers had another close call as firemen battled the flames after the landing. It came as a broken quarter-inch tube sprayed a full stream of liquid fuel toward the flames.

D. B. Clarke, 40-year-old co-owner of the Gallup airport and one of the first to reach the ship, bent the tube to cut off the flow, then turned a hand extinguisher on a grass fire which threatened to engulf the transport.

Douglas aircraft officials, who requested the grounding of all DC6s as several airlines already were taking that action, were here in force to assist an inquiry under over-all direction of Ervin N. Townsend, CAB inspector from Washington, D. C.

Donald W. Douglas Jr., whose father is president of the corporation, headed a committee studying the plane's flight path in search of any parts which may have dropped as it flew over Gallup.

The Civil Aeronautics administration and United Airlines also shared in the probe, with assistance of several of the same men who investigated the Utah DC6 crash. Their study was expected to require at least three days.

"We have something to work with," Knight told newsmen, "and we will positively determine the cause of this accident, but it will take time. Until the cause is determined no American Airlines DC6s will be put into the air."

Other lines grounding their counterparts of the big four-engine ship were United, Braniff, National, Panagra (Panamerican Grace) and Sabena, a Belgian firm.

U. N. COMMITTEE OKAYS PROPOSAL AGAINST SPAIN

Votes 29-6 to Withdraw Ministers From Country Under Present Regime

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 12 (P)—A Soviet-supported slap at Franco Spain was approved today by the United Nations political committee but it fell far short of the unanimous vote its backers wanted.

The 57-member committee voted 29 to 6 for a toned-down mixture of three resolutions aimed against Generalissimo Franco. France, China, Britain and Russia were among those voting for the resolutions. The United States and 19 other countries abstained.

The committee thus reaffirmed a resolution approved by the assembly the past Dec. 12 which called on U. N. members to withdraw their ambassadors and ministers from Madrid and on the Security Council to act if a democratic regime were not installed in Spain in a "reasonable" time.

The new resolution now goes to the full assembly, where delegates expected it would receive final approval.

Charles Fahy, American alternate delegate, said the U. S. felt the resolution meant the Security Council should act. He said the U. S. did not favor economic measures against Spain which the council could take under the charter. The U. S. is on record against any action which "would initiate change by violence."

Six Latin American countries—Argentina, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Dominican Republic, Paraguay, and Peru voted against it. They contended the proposal constituted unwarranted interference in the affairs of a nation.

Argentina dispatched an ambassador to Madrid the past year after the assembly adopted the Dec. 12 resolution. The Dominican Republic maintained a minister in Madrid until shortly before this assembly met. All other U. N. members either complied with the resolution or have no relations with Spain.

Newark Retains Guard Against Ex-Battleship

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 12 (P)—This city's pony fleet of two fireboats was under orders tonight to continue patrol of the Port Newark channel despite hearing of an agreement between the Navy and Newark officials to end the "battle of Newark bay."

Fireboat captains said they had been told to keep the fleet in action and Public Safety Director John B. Keenan announced he had appealed to New York City for additional ships to keep out of the Port Newark channel the 30,000-ton former battleship New Mexico which is on its way to a Port Newark yard for scrapping.

Unarmed and unarmed, save for four water and foam guns, the 30-foot fireboats lined up at the mouth of Port Newark channel, determined to turn back the superdreadnaught. H-hour was set for sometime tomorrow.

The decommissioned battleship, now a dead ship after a noble record in two world wars, day at anchor outside the harbor of New York, of which Newark bay is a part. Its last trip had been a sad one, towed and shoved by three tugs to a scrapyard, only to find it was not wanted at its final resting place.

Senator Edward Martin, former Republican governor of Pennsylvania, last night declared, "If we are to spend billions in Europe, we must curtail expenses at home." Speaking at the 55th anniversary dinner of a watch company in Lancaster, Martin said, "We can not continue on great projects of health, education, flood control, airports and roads and spend the same number of billions in foreign relief. There is a limit to our financial resources, we must place a limit on our expenditures."

New Hampshire Seen Test Spot For Dewey, Stassen Supporters

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (P)—A New Hampshire primary fight between supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen for Republican national convention delegates became assured today, setting up the first major skirmish in the battle for the 1948 GOP presidential nomination.

Dewey, the party's 1944 nominee, has not yet announced his 1948 intentions but his friends said today that a full slate of candidates friendly to him would be entered next March 9 in the New Hampshire balloting—a traditional kick-off point in presidential campaigns.

Stassen, former Minnesota governor and the first candidate to announce for the top spot on the Republican ticket next year, said yesterday that a group of delegates favoring him would be on the ballot in the New England state.

In New Hampshire, Stassen's announcement occasioned surprise among GOP leaders. Gov. Charles H. Dale said he planned to run for one of the posts as national convention delegate but commented "I am not tied to anyone."

Frank J. Sulloway, Republican national committeeman, said "I don't know of any Stassen movement in New Hampshire—or movement on behalf of anyone else."

Dale, a close friend of Dewey, said two months ago the New York governor was "still leading" in GOP sentiment in New Hampshire, but reported some support for Stassen and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Both Hawaiians and New Zealand Maoris trace their ancestry to Tahitians.

Truman Plans Personal Appeal For Europe Aid, Check on Prices

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—President Truman will open the special session of Congress next Monday with a personal appeal for the two things he wants, Congress to give immediate aid to Europe and check rising prices in the United States.

"The four major radio networks announced they would broadcast the speech from 1 30 to 2 p. m." The President's decision to deliver his message in person to a joint session was announced as he conferred with representatives of industry, labor and agriculture on methods of producing enough to make European aid feasible.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman told the Senate foreign relations committee that the Government's proposal to send 597,000,000 in goods to France, Italy and Austria this winter could be carried out without undue strain on the country's economy.

Harriman, who headed a 19-member committee appointed by the President to study America's ability to help Europe, added however that sending the contemplated amount of nitrogen fertilizer would create a "special problem" because of high domestic consumption.

To increase production of fertilizer, the Army was asked by the White House to lease an 8325-acre plant at Elter, Texas with the requirement that the plant's present output of 60,000 tons of nitrogen fertilizer a year be doubled.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Marshall, under questioning by the House Foreign Affairs committee, said the Government expects "about 70 percent efficiency" in the use of the $300,000,000 to be proposed for aiding China over a 15-month period.

He did not immediately explain why there could not be complete efficiency.

Marshall told a news conference later that the proposed $200,000,000 a month for China was intended to combat that country's rampant inflation. He said he still hoped China's nationalist government would be broadened by inclusion of other political parties—a step he urged after returning from China the past year.

Harriman shied away from answering questions about a possible return to some form of price control, explaining he did not want to talk about that until after the President's message was delivered.

"Is it your hope that we can get prices down in this country?" asked Senator Lodge (R-Mass.).

"That is a $64 question," the secretary replied.

British Face Higher Taxes In Battle Against Inflation

government called today for twice as big a tax on company earnings and imposed higher levies on alcoholic drinks and other consumers' items in order to fight inflation by cutting down the amount of money available for purchase of goods.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons when the Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton presented the interim Autumn budget.

He said the proposed revenues would absorb an additional £208,000,000 ($832,000,000) of the annual paper spending power, estimated unofficially at around £800,000,000 ($3,200,000,000).

The budget is subject to parliamentary approval but most of the taxes became effective with Dalton's announcement.

"I don't expect this to be a popular budget," Dalton said tonight in a radio address explaining the government's new fiscal plans to the British people.

"So long as my colleagues in the government and our supporters vinced it is right for the country, we shall go on doing our duty even though for the moment it may lose us votes," he added.

"And if the British people respond as I believe they will to this emergency, we shall come through to victory in peace as we did in war."

He charged Labor's Conservative opponents with trying to "exploit" the unavoidable troubles resulting from the war.

Dalton proposed increasing the tax on distributed company profits from 12 to 25 percent and upping the levy on undistributed earnings from five to 10 percent.

He said many corporation dividends had been increased contrary to his advice and this he attacked as "inflationary and disturbing to good industrial relations."

The government also levied both the rich and from the working man. For the first time in history the laborer must pay a tax for one of his favorite pastimes, betting on dog races and in football pools. A pint of beer in his local pub will cost one pence (two cents) more.

Church Group Sends Clothing and Supplies To Needy Europe

Twenty-eight boxes of school supplies and 20 bundles of clothing for children aged 6 to 12 years in Europe were dedicated in an impressive service of consecration at the World Community Day service held recently in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed.

The contributions here were a part of the hoped-for total of 500,000 such boxes and bundles for children of Europe being gathered in a nation-wide interdenominational drive by Church World Service, Inc.

Contained in each of the 20 bundles of clothing were the following: two suits or dresses, one coat, one sweater, three sets of underwear, two sets night clothes, three pair socks, one cap, one pair mittens, one pair house shoes, three handkerchiefs, two towels, two washcloths, one blanket, and a short note containing the sender's name and address.

The combined shoe and school boxes each contained one pair shoes in good condition, polished. With new laces and in a shoe box; notebooks, pen, pencils, colored pencils, star stickers, clips, gummed tape, calendar, comb, soap, a simple school-yard game, and again a card containing the sender's name and a short message.

Mrs. Eva Keller was in charge of the committee which collected the items and arranged the program of dedication. More than 75 persons witnessed the ceremony of consecration.

Police Chief Reports 127 Calls in October

One hundred and twenty-seven calls for police were made during October, a report prepared by Henry E. Groff, chief, and submitted to Burgess James A. Fritz and borough council, revealed.

Other police activities follow: Complaints received, 12; funerals and other services, 14; investigations, 8; disorderly conduct, 1; subject fined $10; mileage on police car, 1049, from 78,082 to 79,131 on the speedometer.

Motor violations, which totaled 27, included 24 for parking, two for ignoring the traffic signal, and one for reckless driving. Also reported was the painting of the center lines on Route 100 and Route 73 in the borough by the State Highway department.

Language Students Must Know Lesson To Obtain Viduals

It's no longer enough to study a foreign language from a textbook. The way it is taught in Bovertown High school, students sample it from the dining room table as well.

For two second-year language classes—one in Spanish and the other in German—recently held dinner meetings in the home economics department model kitchen and food typical of the countries involved was served.

Knowing the language paid off in this case because no English was spoken at the table. Students had to request food in either Spanish or German.

Huckleberry pancakes were featured on the menu for second-year German students at their dinner meeting. Also served were liverwurst, sauerkraut, and blutkueche sandwiches, and coffee, milk, and cake. Margaret C. Schmeck, teacher, was chief cook. Members of the class who dined on the delicacies were Margaret Beck, Wanda Gresh, Gertrude Wersler, Titus Riegner and Leroy Hoppes.

Spaghetti and meatballs, cheese, peppers, and filled tomatoes added native color to the dinner for second-year Spanish students. Coffee, milk, and cake were also served. Miss Schmeck was in charge. Students present were Marilyn Albright, Raymond Stauffer, Paul Manwiler, Russell Reminger, Frank Cressman, Herman Kumpf and Clyde Underkoffler.

Hospital Auxiliary Names Ehsst Leader

Mrs. Mary Ehsst, of Bechtelsville, was elected president of the hospital auxiliary of St. Joseph's hospital at a recent meeting of the group in the Friendship Hook and Ladder company.

Other officers named include Mrs. Ruth Ginn, first vice president; Mrs. Marian Campbell, second vice president; Mrs. Alvin Steltz, secretary; Mrs. Amanda Erb, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter W. Davidheiser, corresponding secretary.

The group scheduled its annual Christmas party for Monday, Dec. 8, at Cliff's Diner.

A total of 240 dressings were folded the past month, as well as 28 abdominal bands and 72 glove cases.

Mrs. J. Foster Lebengood, hospital director of auxiliaries, was present and addressed the members.

Mrs. Beck Is Named As VFW Auxiliary Head

Mrs. Kathryn Beck, 41 North Reading avenue, was named temporary president of the ladies auxiliary of Post 3487 Veterans of Foreign Wars, to serve for a three-meeting period until permanent organization takes place.

Also named for the same period were Mrs. Charles Weller, secretary; and Mrs. John Stee, treasurer.

Couple From France Arrives in Bovertown

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Abrams arrived in Bovertown following the docking of the Queen Mary in New York early yesterday morning. Before coming to Bovertown, they made their home in Saumur, France, a town near Paris. They are staying at the home of Mr. Abrams' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Abrams, 12 Fairview street. Although their specific plans are not yet complete, they will make their new home in the United States.

Diesel Locomotive Derailed in Yards

Derailling of a Reading Company Diesel switching locomotive in the yards at the Bovertown station occurred early yesterday morning, it was reported.

The accident happened while the locomotive was shifting cars on the middle track of the three-track yard immediately in front of the station. No one was injured but the services of a second switching locomotive from Pottstown were required before the first could be put back on the rails. The freight train, which normally leaves between midnight and 5 a. m., was still in Bovertown at 8:15 yesterday morning.

George W. Kulp Weds Miss Louise Lucarelli

The marriage of Louise Lucarelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Lucarelli, Bovertown, to George W. Kulp, son of Bessie Kulp, of Gilbertville, took place on the past Saturday at 1 p. m. in the parsonage of Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, at 35 West Philadelphia avenue, Bovertown. The Rev. Harper L. Schneek, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony of the Evangelical and Reformed church.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with black accessories. Following the wedding, the couple took a weekend trip to New York City. They are now at home in Gilbertville.

Riff Leader Joins Arabs In Fight for Palestine

CAIRO, Nov. 12 (AP)—A reliable source said tonight that Abd El Krim, the Riff leader who fought the French and Spaniards in Morocco in the 1920s, was planning to go to Lebanon soon to join Haj Amin El Hussein, the exiled mufti of Jerusalem, "in the struggle of the Arabs for Palestine independence." Abd El Krim, after 21 years of French exile on Reunion Island, escaped from French custody in Egypt the past spring and was given refuge by the Egyptian government. El Hussein went to Lebanon from Egypt the past month to attend a meeting of the Arab league council and remained there to participate in the Arab fight for Palestine.

Century Club Hears Mr. Isaac Thomas; Mr. William Whitman Presents Solos

"The time of crisis is still among us as well as in other countries. More than ever before we need the kind of people that are willing to do that which is right," said Mr. Isaac Thomas, a member of The Hill faculty, in his address to the members of the Century club yesterday afternoon in Library hall.

Mr. Thomas used as his topic "American Citizenship." He declared "Give strength to American citizenship, it is the most precious. It should be cherished and well guarded because it is easily lost. There is always the danger that there will arise among us the spirit of indifference in unity or responsibility. It is a sin to stand by and be apathetic to the needs of all. High principles are right instead of ease and comfort."

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Harry L. Christman, president, at which time Mrs. Robert Stewart was welcomed as a new member.

Mr. William Whitman accompanied by Mrs. Irma Miller sang, "God Touch the Road My Budo." Into the Night and Smiling Through.

Worship Service Staged by Women Of Trinity Church

A worship service centering on the theme, "My Responsibility For the Establishment of World Order," featured the quarterly meeting of the Women's Guild of Trinity Reformed church last night.

Mrs. Barclay Scheetz, chairman of social service, reported that several bundles of clothing were packed by members and dedicated at the local World Community Day observance the past Friday. Several boxes of shoes and school supplies for children overseas were also supplied, and today about 1000 pounds of used clothing collected during the past ten days by members, was sent to the Church World Service center at New Windsor, Md., from where it will be shipped to Europe later.

Mrs. Paul Towers, president of the Missionary society, announced the annual thank offering service to be held at 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 23. Mrs. Charles Schaeffer, Nazareth, a member of the auxiliary board at Bethany Orphan's home and president of the Valley Regional Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed church, will deliver the address.

At this service, all thank offering boxes are to be returned during the ceremony of ingathering.

Ten members of the Young Adult class of the Sunday school presented the play, "Pennies and Prayers." At the business meeting, a bake sale to be held Saturday morning was announced. The sale is sponsored by the guild.

During the fellowship hour members participated in a scavenger hunt. The service was conducted by Mrs. John B. Prantz, president of the guild, assisted by Mrs. Paul Dutenhofer.

Dried raisins, prunes, peaches and apples are good food items for thrifty housewives.

Junior Service League Plans Ball for Charity

Local charities supported by the Junior Service league will benefit from the annual Green and Silver ball to be held on Friday, Dec. 19, at the Brookside Country club.

This was announced at a recent committee meeting at the home of Miss Rita Bartholomew, 323 Roland avenue.

Members on the committee are Miss Almeda Martz, chairman; Miss Bartholomew, co-chairman; Mrs. Richard Rosendale, chairman; Mrs. Robert Kulp, Mrs. Robert Jeffries, Mrs. Evans VanBuskirk, and Mrs. Gresh, chairman. Mrs. Earl Keiser, Mrs. Herbert Drummheller and Mrs. Whitney Sanders, of orchestra and tickers.

Also Miss Catherine Beshewor, chairman, Mrs. Laurence Flam, of food; and Mrs. John Howard, chairman, Mrs. J. Evans Thomas and Mrs. Philip Gresh, of publicity.

The theme of the ball will be carried out with gay yuletide decorations. The main feature will be the midnight supper. Ken Nichols and his orchestra will provide the music for dancing.

Unusual and attractive door prizes will also be awarded.

Fruit that is fully ripe and too soft for canning or freezing whole may be made into a fruit puree and frozen for future use.

Makes Report

Greek Foreign Minister Constantinos Tsaldaris (above) told parliament yesterday that Greece was ready to resume relations with Bulgaria. He also ordered the Greek army to take the offensive against bands of guerilla forces.

33 Girl Scouts Attend Weekly Troop Meeting

The weekly meeting of Spring City Girl Scout troop in the Methodist church Monday night was in charge of Doris Edwards and Mary Jean Keen, with 33 girls and one visitor present.

After dividing into groups the Scouts started working for badges. The Beginners said their laws and promise to Janice Ludwick, who explained badge work. Games were played before the closing circle.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

Funeral services for ANNA M. WELLS, former local resident, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ella Miller, PHILADELPHIA, were conducted in a funeral home at 331 New street, Spring City, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. Wilbur A. Martin, pastor of Pottstown First Church of the Brethren. Interment was made in Oak Grove cemetery, Parkerford. Bearers were Roy, Charles and David Wells, Edward and Herman Mowrey and Milton Miller.

'Ford Girl Scouts Plan Social Outing

Royersford Senior Girl Scout troop met last night in Grace Lutheran church.

Attendance stars were presented by the leader Miss Phyllis Stafford. A progressive party was planned for Dec. 12. The committee selected was Marjorie Renninger, chairman; Suzanne Raudenbush, Louise Thomas and Joanne Heller.

A birthday message was read to the troop from Mrs. Mildred Merz. Mary Undercoffler, secretary, announced Mrs. Merz also had contributed a cash gift to the troop. Three representatives were named to a senior planning board. They were Suzanne Raudenbush, Louise Thomas and Nancy Henry. Initiation for new members was planned for Nov. 26.

Joanne Heller, a member of the troop, related her experiences while attending a recent meeting of Girl Scouts of the Third district in Washington, D. C.

Cookies were distributed for a sale now in progress, to raise funds for the Girl Scout camp at Obelisk. The next meeting was arranged for Tuesday night, Nov. 25, instead of Wednesday night.

Spring City Needlework Guild Contributes 2008 Garments to Charity Institutions

Spring City branch of the Needlework Guild of America surpassed the past year's total of garments at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the Methodist church.

The ingathering this year netted 2008 garments, as compared with 1984 a year ago.

Mrs. Robert W. Hallman, president, conducted the business meeting, which was followed by a program. A moment of silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. Chester Yeager.

Mrs. Tucker Evans, Phoenixville, formerly of Spring City, Chester county welfare worker, was the speaker. Mrs. Evans told of her work in the county in behalf of feeble-minded and neglected children.

The program included two baritone solos, "The Lost Chord" and "Flee as a Bird," by John Savage. Spring City high school student, accompanied by Franklin Weikel Young Mr. Weikel also played two piano solos by Chopin, "Military Polonaise" and "Nocturne."

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Raymond Schnell and Mrs. Carrie Hottenstein. Officers of the group are: Mrs. Milton Latshaw, honorary president; Mrs. Hallman, president; Mrs. Harry Boettger, first vice-president; Mrs. Addison L. Allen, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles M. Taylor, secretary; Mrs. Herbert Shade, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Verna Rogers, treasurer.

The report of the directors, listing the number of garments reported by each, was:

Mrs. C. Ludwick, 70; Mrs. C. R. DRIFTIN' AROUND WITH ELMER PANOC

FOUR former local gridders who thrilled football fans while playing for North Coventry High and Pottstown High came back into the limelight the past week by turning in brilliant performances for their new alma maters.

Bill Keeler and Guy Euston, former North Coventry High gridders, scored a touchdown apiece to lead Coach Andy Kerr's Lebanon Valley college eleven to a 31-7 win over Albright college at Reading the past Saturday.

Jim Longacre, regular tackle on Coach Heeb Meyers' great Pottstown High team of a year ago, tallied two touchdowns the past Friday night to pace the Kentucky Military school to an easy victory over Danville.

Bobby Martz, fleet-footed quarterback on the same Trojan team on which Longacre was a regular, scooted 40 yards for a touchdown for the Pennsylvania Military college against Moravian college in another game the past week, but a 15-yard penalty nullified the play.

KEELER scored his touchdown for Lebanon Valley by falling on a loose ball in the end zone following a blocked punt. Euston's touchdown came in the fourth period when he scampered 82 yards down the sidelines for the six-pointer. Keeler is a regular guard for Kerr's eleven while Euston is used as a backfield replacement.

LONGACRE made a little better showing than Keeler by scoring two touchdowns from his tackle position for the Kentucky Military school. Longacre, known to Pottstown fans as "Mauler," scored his

CONERLY-POOLE COMBINATION IS TOPS IN NATION

Two Man Team Wins Games for Mississippi; Poole Best End in Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Apparently the Charlie Conerly-Barney Poole pitching and catching combination for Mississippi was the hottest thing to hit Tennessee since the Oak Ridge A-bomb hatchery.

Figures from the National Collegiate Athletic bureau today showed the part played by the demolition duo in the past Saturday's 43-13 rout of Tennessee, first time in grid history that Ole Miss beat the Vols.

Poole caught eight passes for 121 yards and a touchdown as his contribution, while Conerly, the nation's total offense and passing offense leader for the past four weeks, completed 19 of 34 passes for 246 yards and four touchdowns, ran the ball 12 times for 39 yards and two touchdowns and had a total offense mark of 285 yards in 46 plays.

Conerly, incidentally, has accounted for 1356 yards, or 61 percent of Mississippi's total of 2180.

Poole may not approach the modern collegiate pass-snagging record of 50 set in 1941 by Henry Stanton of Arizona, now with the New York Yank pros, but he's already ahead of the best performances turned in during the past five years.

He's now caught 35 for 378 yards and seven touchdowns, and has two games to go. He's grabbed eight in one game twice this year — against Tennessee and Kentucky, and he caught seven against South Carolina.

Dan Edwards of Georgia hoped from fourth to second by catching six for 85 yards against Florida. His 461 yards on his 29 catches is high yardage for the grid outfielders.

Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice kept North Carolina in the punting lead and himself in the individual top spot with his 44.2 average per punt, just a shade ahead of Forrest East of Lehigh, who had 44.1. Seven of the top 10 punters hail from the South.

Jack Jensen of California and Ed Stee of Bucknell are tied in interception returns with seven apiece. Jensen traveled 102 yards with his, Stee, 55.

Three gridders have intercepted six—Tom Worthington, Northwestern, whose 167 yards in returns is high; George Simms, Baylor, and Bill Vigh, Rutgers.

Lindy Berry of Texas Christian, although idle the past weekend, still leads in punt runbacks with 33 for 420 yards, making him the busiest safety man of the season thus far, both in number of runbacks and in yards returned.

Tommy Kalmann of Nevada, who led the nation in snatching nine touchdown passes from Bill Mackrides at Nevada last year, has shifted over leadership with seven returns good for 280 yards. He replaces Walter Bolden of Richmond in this department.

PAIS HEADS FOR AMERICA TO TURN PRO

Jack Kramer, Star of Davis Cup Matches, Quits Amateur Ranks

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 2 (AP)—Dimmy Pais, Australia's No. 1 tennis player, flew away to America today to turn professional, and was sped on his way by a sharp blast from one of the country's leading amateur officials.

"Australia amateur tennis is well rid of him," said Brian Fuller, president of the new South Wales association. "All tennis administrators feel the same about Pais—they are sick of him."

"I think this is just another act of discourtesy on his part. Pais was chosen to play in an inter-state match starting next Wednesday. He also was to have played in the new South Wales championship next week. He must have known this morning at the latest that he was going."

The 26-year-old Pais, present holder of the Australian singles crown, said before his departure that he had not yet signed to play professionally, but that he expected to do so.

"I will meet Promoter Jack Harris in San Francisco, where he will join Jack Kramer, the American amateur champion, and possibly Pancho Segura," he said. "I expect that contracts will then be signed for the three of us to join the present world professional champion, Bobby Riggs, in a tour."

Harris, the Chicago promoter of tennis ventures, announced today that Jack Kramer, twice national singles champion and hero in America's past two Davis Cup matches with Australia, joined the professional ranks at an annual salary of $50,000, largest contract ever offered a tennis star.

Kramer will team up with Bobby Riggs, professional champion, on a tour opening New York's Madison Square Garden Dec. 26. They will engage in 50 to 60 matches in America's principal cities and also will invade South Africa, where Harris took Don Budge and Riggs on a highly profitable venture last year, and South America, a lucrative field for touring American tennis stars.

Harris said Kramer's earnings might exceed $50,000 a year since his contract also provides for a percentage agreement.

Lawrenceville Team Loses to The Hill

Scoring two quick touchdowns in the first period, The Hill school junior varsity grid team gained a little revenge over Lawrenceville school yesterday afternoon by turning back the Red and Black reserves, 12-0, on Dell field.

A small crowd watched the Blue and Grey strike once on the ground and once through the air to avenge the 13-0 setback handed the varsity eleven the past Saturday at Lawrenceville.

The first touchdown came shortly after the opening kickoff and The Hill's Geary blocked a Lawrenceville punt and recovered the ball on the visitors' 15-yard stripe. Paul Spadone slashed off tackle to the 2-yard stripe from where he plunged over on the next play for the score. The try for the extra point failed.

After the kickoff, Lawrenceville failed to show much offensive power against the Blue and Grey and was forced to punt. The Hill combine received the punt and started another drive toward the Lawrenceville goal. Dick Barth tossed an aerial to halfback Jack Ellicker and the latter galloped 40 yards for a six-pointer. Again the try for the extra point failed.

In the fourth period, the home

Baby Trojans Drop 7-0 Tilt To Coatesville

A crowd of nearly 250 fans braved a cold wind sweeping across Franklin Field yesterday afternoon to see Coatesville High's junior varsity grid team net a touchdown late in the fourth period to defeat Coach Bill McCabe's Baby Trojans, 7-0.

After Coatesville scored the lone six-pointer of the game, the Trojans put on a last minute drive that carried to the Coatesville 14-yard line before the game ended. Coatesville kicked to the Trojans following the kickoff Bob Dobry and Rod Jacobs doing most of the running, moved to the Coatesville 20. Quarterback Frank Formando passed to Nick Diminni on the 14-yard stripe where the game ended a few moments later.

The Trojans had numerous opportunities to score in the first three periods, but McCabe's charges lacked that extra drive to carry the pigskin across the last white line.

In the second period, the Trojans marched to the Coatesville 13-yard stripe and couldn't score. The Blue and White came back in the third period to threaten again, but the Red Raiders defense tightened when the ball moved closer to the goal line.

Late in the final quarter, Dobry's punt went out of bounds in the vicinity of the Coatesville 40-yard line. Here the Red Raiders started a steady ground attack which carried to the Trojan 5-yard line from where Alec Zaza circled his right end to score standing up. Jamison's placement was good and that was all the scoring of the game.

Bears Still Rated Top Power Team In Pro Grid Loop

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Chicago Bears still are the National football league's power team with the Washington Redskins the loop's air arm.

Statistics released by Commissioner Bert Bell's office today also revealed that old hands topped the NFL's individual performance charts. Bullet Bill Dudley led in scoring, Steve Van Buren headed the ground gaining department, while Sammy Baugh and Sid Luckman battled for passing honors.

The Bears, winners of their last five games, led in total offense with 2697 yards—934 on the ground and 1763 in the air. Washington ranked second with 666 yards on the ground and 1901 yards via the air route. The Chicago Cardinals with 1078 rushing and 1411 passing for a total 2513 ranked third in total offense.

Dudley, Detroit star, not only topped the entire loop in scoring but he led the Western division in punt and kickoff returns, ranks second in his division in interceptions and fifth in the league in ground gaining. Dudley's 54 points were four better than the 50 scored by Pat Harder of the Cardinals. Steve Lach, Pittsburgh, had 48.

Steve Van Buren, Eagles' star, not only was running away with ground gaining honors but appeared headed for a new NFL record. The former Louisiana State back gained 92 yards against the New York Giants Sunday to boost his total to 634 yards. This was 30 yards more than Dudley recorded to win the past year's ground gaining honors. The record for one season is held by Beattie Peathers, former Chicago Bear ace who ran for 1004 yards in 1934.

Washington's Sammy Baugh regained his passing leadership by a whisker over Sid Luckman of the Bears. Baugh showed 105 completions in 186 pitches good for 1632 yards, 13 touchdowns and a 56.4 average. Luckman completed 110 of 194 for 1623 yards and 16 touchdowns and an average of 56.7.

BILLY FOX BATTLES JAKE LAMOTTA IN GARDEN TOMORROW

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—A fight "natural" coming up this Friday in Madison Square Garden has cut short a lot of sad talk over what's happening to the boxing business.

Blackjack Billy Fox, the Philadelphia knock out artist, and avowed Bronxite who never has been knocked off his feet, are slated to go 10 rounds but there are few experts who believe it will go the distance.

Fox, a 21-year-old light heavy, has had 50 pro fights. He has won 49 of them by putting his opponents to sleep. In the other he was flattened himself by 155-pound champion Gus Lesnevich in the tenth round.

Lamotta, a cocky, rugged slugger, has never been slugged to the floor. A veteran, 26-old mauler who will fight anyone if the price is right, the confident Lamotta has had trouble getting action from other top-ranking fighters in his own 160-pound division.

As a result the 20th Century S. C. has been doing a rushing business and Sol Strauss, acting director of the organization in the absence of the ailing Mike Jacobs, is happily anticipating an $80,000 plus gate.

Coaches Preparing Teams For Final Games of Season

Football teams in Pottstown and surrounding area are busy practicing for their final game before preparing for their annual Thanksgiving Day classics which bring to an end another football season.

Only two schools in the Pottstown area will have another game prior to the Thanksgiving Day contest after meeting their foes Saturday afternoon. North Coventry, after meeting Upper Chichester, Saturday, will battle West Reading on Nov. 22 before taking the field against West Pottsgrove Thanksgiving Day.

Royersford meets West Pottsgrove Saturday and then travels to East Greenville on Nov. 22 before meeting Spring City in the annual battle for the Twin Boro championship Thanksgiving Day.

Coach Heeb Meyers is working hard daily getting his Trojans ready for a battle with Bridgeport High Saturday at Bridgeport. The Dragons have won only two games thus far this year, but reports from Bridgeport reveal that the team is scrappy and takes advantage of all the breaks in the game.

Death Toll of Hunters Remains at Five

Pennsylvania's small game season almost at the halfway mark, the State Game commission said today the death toll in hunting accidents remains at five, with upwards of 150 injured.

For the same period last season, three fatalities were reported with 190 suffering injuries.

The commission said Pennsylvania's nimrod army this year numbers close to last year's all-time record high of 850,234.

A soil is called peat if it contains as much as 50 percent of organic matter.

Warriors Cage Team Opens Title Defense

The Philadelphia Warriors open the defense of their Basketball Association of America championship tomorrow night at the Arena with an all-veteran team starting against the Providence Steamrollers.

The Warriors' starting lineup will be Big Art Hillhouse at center, Jos Pulks, the league's top scorer last season and Angelo Musi at forwards and Hewie Dallmar and George Senacke at guards.

Eddie Gottlieb, Warriors coach, said today he had sent Jack Tommy, former College of Pacific coach a week ago, back to the Chicago Stags.

19 Railroad Unions Organize Unit for Political Activity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (P)—Top officers of 19 railroad unions tonight set up an organization for political activity in the 1948 elections, the first such move in recent railroad annals.

Up to now each of the railroad brotherhoods has decided on endorsement or opposition to candidates as a separate union and without a direct appeal to the more than 1,500,000 railroad workers for united action.

The Railroad Labor Executives association recessed its meeting late today, then met as individuals and formed "railroad labor's political league."

"The executives of 19 of the 21 railroad unions then adopted a resolution agreeing on the principles to be followed in by-laws to be written, and declaring there is:

"Need for railroad workers more fully and efficiently to exercise their rights to vote."

The two brotherhoods not in the association are the trainmen of A.
P. Whitney, and the locomotive engineers of Alvanley Johnson.
The association, under the leadership of Harry W. Fraser, of the Order of Railway Conductors, and T. C. Cashen, retiring chairman of the Railroad Executives association, said railroad labor "should be more fully informed on the issues arising in election contests."

The association members designated themselves as an organizing body to bring about the formation of the league, with by-laws calling for voluntary financial contributions.

The whole procedure followed was to avoid conflict with the Taft-Hartley labor - management act which prohibits political expenditures and contributions in election campaigns by labor organizations.
An executive director is to be appointed and an executive committee of eight established.
It will consist of a chairman, vice - chairman, secretary - treasurer and five others.

Officers will be set up in Washington, but separate from those of the Railway Labor Executives association.
A spokesman said that further details may be worked out tomorrow, if the Executives' association can recede its own meeting for that purpose. Election of a chairman and vice-chairman is set for 10
a. m. tomorrow, with Fraser virtually unopposed to succeed Cashen in the post of chairman.

RELIEF GROUP MEETS
No claims were presented Tuesday night at a meeting of the Pottstown Firemen's Relief association at the firehouse of the Good Will Fire company. President Charles M.
Jones was in the chair.

Offered Throne

Nineteen-year-old King
has been invited to return immediately to Siam and assume the throne in the wake of the past Sunday's revolution.

At the time of the first census in the United States, 1840, only 40 percent of the people were literate.

Color Slides to Be Shown At Scout Court of Honor

A showing of color slides taken when three Pottstown scouts attended scout camp in Cimarron, N.
M., the past August will enlighten the Boy Scout court of honor tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Trinity Reformed church's fellowship hall.

T. Edmund Wells, neighborhood commissioner and one of the three on the trip, will exhibit the slides after the monthly presentation of awards has been made.

The church hall was chosen for this meeting's site instead of borough hall, where the court usually meets, because of better facilities for showing slides.

Walter Hutt, scoutmaster of

Four Firemen Suspended For Smoke Nuisance

ERIE, Nov. 12 (P)—Eli May, Erie smoke control director, announced today the Pennsylvania railroad has suspended four firemen for two days without pay for contributing to the city's smoke nuisance.

"I expect other railroads operating through Erie to follow the lead of the Pennsylvania," said May.

Visit to War Cemetery To Be Described to Rotary

The Rotary club will have Eli
H. Stoltzfus, Phoenixville, as guest speaker at an Armistice Day meeting at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Elks home.

Stoltzfus, who lost a son in the late war, will tell the group of his visit to his sons' grave in Holland.

In Russian, "red" means beautiful.
